

LADIES' MUSLIN UNDERWEAR
A FRESH, NEW STOCK.
Prices Below all Competition!
AT
D. CRAWFORD & CO.'S.

NOTE THE PRICES.

LADIES' CHEMISES—Good muslin and nicely made, 80c.
LADIES' CHEMISES—Tucked yoke, with three insertions, Hamburg edge around neck and sleeves, 60c.
SQUARE NECK CHEMISE—Very nicely trimmed, good muslin, 75c to $1.25.
LADIES' CHEMISES—With three insertions in yoke and trimmed with Tulle lace, 75c.
LADIES' SKIRTS—Deep hem and tucks, good muslin, well made, 80c to 90c.
CAMBRIC RUFFLE SKIRTS—With tucks, very nicely made, 80c to 90c.
LADIES' SKIRTS—Deep Hamburg flounce with cluster of tucks, $1.15.
LADIES' SKIRTS—With cambric ruffle, trimmed with Tulle lace, 80c.
LADIES' NIGHT DRESSES—Yoke tucked and embroidered, ruffle round neck and sleeves, 80c.
MOTHER RUSSIAN NIGHT DRESSES—Well made and nicely trimmed, $1 to $1.50.
LADIES' DRESSERS—With broad hem and tucked, 80c to 90c.
LADIES' DRAWERS—With cambric tucked ruffle, tucks above, 40c to 50c.
LADIES' DRAWERS—With Hamburg ruffle, made of good muslin, 50c to 75c.
LADIES' DRAWERS—With Tulle lace insertion, embroidered ruffle, 80c to $1.25 and $1.50.

Underwear Department OF
D. CRAWFORD & CO.

BASE HEATER FOR SOFT COAL!
The Latest and Best Improvement in Soft Coal Heating Stoves. They will burn the slack and keep fire over night. For Sale by all Store Dealers.
EXCELSIOR MFG. COMPANY.

THE GRAPE CURE

SAL-MUSCATELLE
The Crystallized Salts extracted from Grapes and Fruit, a most wonderful product from Nature's Laboratory. Have been used in your home for years, summer, winter, and in all cases for the cure of the Grapes, Warts, and other skin diseases. Prepared by the LONDON SAL-MUSCATELLE COMPANY, London, England. Beware of imitations; the genuine is "Sal-Muscatele" only. For sale by Richardson Drug Comp's, Meyer Bros. & Co.
G. F. VOGEL
MANUFACTURER OF
Platform Wagons, Carriages and Buggies.
Trucks, Buses, Light and Heavy Spring Wagons. Every thing on wheels. Cor. Main and Spruce Sts., St. Louis. Repairing and repainting promptly attended to.

EXTRA
5:30 P. M.

GROWING THICKER.

The New York Puzzle Refuses to be Solved,

And Michigan Gives Alarming Signals of Apostasy.

Carter Harrison Runs Vastly Ahead of His Ticket in Illinois—And Governor Cleveland Makes Substantial Gains in That State—Brightening Prospects—Wisconsin Conceded to the Republicans.

COLORADO.

DENVER, Col., November 5.—Returns from the interior of the State are scattering and incomplete; none of the large city precincts yet reported. Enough known, however, to insure Republican National ticket by usual majority, about 3,000. Eaton probably elected Governor by a small majority. Symes, Republican, for Congress, will fall behind the National ticket, but is probably elected. With two or three exceptions the Republicans of this county elect their full ticket. The Legislature is largely Republican.

INDIANA.

Largely Democratic.
INDIANAPOLIS, November 5.—Indianapolis city and county give a Republican majority of 600. Peelle, Republican candidate for Congress, was defeated by Byrum, Democrat, by 600 majority. Ward, a Democrat, in the Ninth District, defeated Doxey by 400. The Legislature is largely Democratic.

Bulletin.

Six hundred and ten voting places show a Republican gain of 11,773, a Democratic gain of thirty-eight per cent of the vote heard from.

8:30 P. M.—Six hundred and twenty-four voting places show a Republican gain of 11,383, a Democratic gain of 6,738, leaving a net Republican gain of 4,645, 40 per cent of the votes. This ratio will give Blaine the State.

Six hundred and thirty-five voting places show a Republican gain of 11,022, a Democratic gain of 6,511; a net Republican gain of 4,511.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Ill., November 5.—The Republicans carry Galena by 1,033 majority. Berge, Republican, is elected State Senator; Cooley and Orendoff, Republicans, and Willoughby, Democrat, are elected as Representatives. Starr is elected to Congress; a Republican gain of one Congressman.

Morrison's Majority Reduced.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
ALTON, Ill., November 5.—Morrison's majority for Congress in this Madison county is 373, a falling off of 504 from his majority here in 1882, when he received 909 majority.

Bulletin.

Seven hundred and twenty-eight precincts including 166 in Cook county give Oglesby 158,357; Harrison, 150,389. One hundred and sixty-two precincts in Chicago city give Blaine, 40,413; Cleveland, 40,435; Oglesby 11,141; Harrison, 58,237.

CHICAGO, November 5 P. M.—Six hundred and sixty-four precincts, including 194 in Cook County and Chicago, give Oglesby 158,357; Harrison, 147,168. Four hundred and five precincts outside of Cook County show a Democratic gain of 7,916. On the basis of 2,400 precincts in the State, this would, if this ratio continues, give, on the whole State, a net Democratic gain of about 47,000 to meet the Republican majority of 40,716 in 1880.

KANSAS.

Bulletin.

TOPEKA, Kan., November 5.—One hundred and seventy-three whole counties give Blaine 11,797; Major, 10,785; Martin, 7,886 majority. None of the large towns are reported as yet.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, November 5.—Ex-Governor Michael Hahn, Republican, is elected to Congress in the Second District by a good majority.

MISSISSIPPI.

Not Less Than 20,000.

JACKSON, Miss., November 4.—Every Congressional District in the State is undoubtedly Democratic by a good majority. Chalmers is defeated beyond a doubt. Cleveland's majority is not less than 20,000.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Congressional Returns.

BOSTON, Mass., November 5.—The following Congressmen are elected: First District, R. T. Davis, Republican; Second District, John D. Long, Republican; Third District, A. A. Ranney, Republican; Fourth District, P. A. Collins, Democrat; Fifth District, G. D. Hayden, Republican; Sixth District, H. B. Levering, Democrat; Seventh District, C. F. Stone, Republican; Eighth District, Charles E. Allen, Republican; Ninth District, Fred D. Ely, Republican; Tenth District, W. R. Rice, Republican; Eleventh District, William Whiting, Republican; Twelfth District, J. W. Rockwell, Republican. A Republican gain of two Congressmen.

MICHIGAN.

Latest From Michigan.

DETROIT, November 5.—The latest reports on Congressmen give the Fusion ticket 6, all Democrats, Maybury in the First, Comstock in the Fifth, Williams in the Sixth, Carleton in the Eighth, Fisher in the Ninth. The Republicans elect three: O'Donnell in the Third, Outcalt in the Eleventh, Nott in the Twelfth. The Fourth is reported to be very close. The Fourth is reported to be very close.

both parties; and reports are so contradictory it is impossible to tell what the result will be.

NEW YORK.

The Net Democratic Gain.
NEW YORK, November 5.—Fifteen hundred and sixty-five election districts outside the cities of New York and Brooklyn give Blaine, 835,070; Cleveland, 801,135; Butler, 9,281; St. John, 17,800; a net Democratic gain of 11,771.

4:30 P. M.
NEW YORK, November 5.—One thousand, five hundred and eighty-five election districts outside of New York City and Brooklyn give Blaine 837,000; Cleveland, 835,411; Butler, 9,281; St. John, 17,800.

OHIO.

Bulletin.
8:30 P. M.—The Republican majority in the State will probably exceed 80,000, and may reach 40,000. Twenty-seven counties show net Republican gain over October of 6,755, not including Hamilton County.

WISCONSIN.

Adverse Claims.
MILWAUKEE, November 5.—The State Democratic Central Committee concedes 7,000 to 8,000 Republican majority on the basis of the returns as far received, and the Republican Central Committee claims about 10,000.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, November 5.—From present indications the State will give a majority for Blaine. The Republicans have probably elected two Congressmen.

On Messenger Returns.

NEW YORK, November 5.—Returns from West Virginia indicate that Blaine has carried the State, and Gov. Republican, is elected to Congress. The returns, however, are very meager.

LIVING LIKE A PRINCE.

But Without So Much as a Dollar to Bless Himself With.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

Curious stories are often told about men of no fortune who live like millionaires. Occasionally instances like that of "Lord Abercrombie," who lived like a Vanderbilt for a few months, crop up. But it is seldom that a man turns up who can live like a Russian prince, drive blooded horses, give elaborate dinners, and move among a high society without having any money of his own. There is such a man, or rather boy, in New York at the present time. He has been going at a terrific rate for two years. I shall call him Smith, because it is not his name. He is an ideal dude. His figure is slim, almost to emaciation, his chest is narrow, his arms and legs long, and his face absolutely colorless. More than this, it is an effeminate face, with small features, weak eyes, and an irresolute mouth. It is fainter than the face of a woman. New York. At every event of importance this pale and languid little dude is on hand. He has an extraordinary assortment of clothes, wears numerous rings, and is usually accompanied by a valet. He comes of very respectable people. I know his mother and several of his relatives, but he has nothing to do with him, and his name is never mentioned at home. About two years ago he got into a scrape up town for which he needed ready money at once. He begged his people to give him $10,000, and they refused point blank. Then he gathered all of his mother's diamonds, pledged them for $75,000, and took a steamer for Paris. When he arrived there he was met by a commission house, asked the head of the firm for a position, and languidly tossed him a check for $75,000 for investment. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30,000, and prepared to leave Paris. He was then 30 years old. Of course no one knew that when he speculated in $1,000 lots he was risking what he had in an instant turn of the market. He was so placid and serene during his operations that they gave him credit for having a big fortune in reserve. Smith made things hot in Paris. He lived there four months, spent every penny he had, and returned to America with half a dozen trunks filled with clothing. He landed him nearly $30,000 ahead. He made a few more successful speculations, drew the whole amount of his gains, which had then reached about $30

_____

THE LIT

I am all alone in
And the midn
And the faggot
Are the only

And over my soul
Sweet feelings
For my heart and
Of the little boy
I went one night Went home to
And I softly open
And softly the
My mother came She kissed me reckoned the peria. They

l. They thy; but beings ation as ss ther

We shall go home
To our Father's
Where the hope o
Our love no bro
We shall roam on
And drink of its
And one of the joy
The little boy th

From Les Saur's Bon-

adjoining the old was long coveted. Two tried to buy it from him, but he obstinately refused.

"I was born here, too," was what she said.

He found her peeling the door. With her 72 wrinkles, stooped, big girl, Chinatown

"Well, old mother, hearty, eh?"

"So-so—and you, Maud?"

"Eh! eh!—just a little, otherwise I'm all right."

"Allons!—so much!"

And she said nothing more.

her working. Her cr hard as the legs of a ci potatoes from the big them round and round hands of peelings unde which she held in the c as each potato was all to a bucket of water.
ens would come one af
the peeling

the feelings even from and then would run could carry them, w beaks.

Chicot seemed to be anxious—with something of his tongue and woul
At last he made a dec
"Say! Mere Magloir
"What can I do for

"Well, this farm of want to sell it?"
"If that's what you v for that here. What talking about it any m
"You see, I've thoug that would be just the t
"What's that?"
"See here!—you'll sell

keep it just as you do what I mean? Listen a
The old woman stoppe and fixed on the inn eyes, still very bright un lids.

He proceeded:
"I want to explain th
ery month I'll give you france. You have

"You hear me—here in my tilbury and ecus of one hundred sou—be any change for you the world. You'll just you won't have to bother me anything. All owe me anything. All be to take my money. suit you?"

Then he looked into his

"That is all very well for you!—that won't give you any trouble."
"He went on again to explain."
"Don't you bother me. You'll stay here just as I am."

allows you to live. You'll at home, in your own house, a little paper at the notary to me after you. You've got body belonging to you, except that you don't care anything does that please you? You ty during your whole life down one hundred and fifty It's all clear profit for you.

—“I'll not say no. On with myself about the affair and we'll talk it over a week. Then I'll tell you about it.”

And Maître Chicot went

Mere Magliore remained did not sleep the next night. She was in a fever of desire there was something in such an arrangement—some advantage, but the thought of a month—of that fine ready poured into her eyes.

"At that rate, even," said

The old woman actually excitement at the prospect of a month; but she was still wary of a thousand things and a hundred possible schemes to delay remained for a whole evening unable to decide what to do the notary to prepare the home.

When Chicot came to ask her to marry him, she declared that she would not be his wife for the price. Finally, as he persisted in his demand, she announced that she had refused. Chicot jumped with disgust.

Then, in order to convince me, he argued about the probable date of the book. "I've got only five or six years—that's sure! Here I am 65 years old, and not stout at all! In the evening I thought I was getting something was tearing my back, and they had to carry me to bed." But Chicot didn't allow it.

that'll do! that'll do!
you're solid as the church to live to be at least 110 ye you'll live to bury me, any
The whole day was spent as the old woman would n nnkeeper at last agreed to month.
They signed the act us darkness.

Three years went by. * * * remained miraculously well have become one day old despair. It seemed to paying her pension for at that he had been tricked from thing to thing.

to the same

